Kim - Saved From Suicide

In my teen years I was depressed and unhappy with life. After my parents divorced I started smoking and drinking. This made me more depressed. One day I just decided, I was going to end my life. I was out partying with my friends. I had a terrible time and started thinking about suicide even more. On the way home, I thought about how I would do it. My mom had really strong meds for her kidney problems. I would just take them all. By the time my mom got up, I would be dead. We were all drinking that night but I didn't know the driver was that drunk. Suddenly we ran off the road. We hit a row of poles and the truck flipped. I remember flying through the air thinking to myself maybe I will die in this wreck. Then I won't have to take all those pills. This would be easier. Then I remember thinking I was at home in bed, like I was waking up from a dream. Except everything was pitch black. I couldn't see. I tried to move but I couldn't. I felt a horrifying fear come over me. I must be dead! Words cannot begin to describe how terrified I was. I wanted to die and now I had my wish, but I didn't want to be dead if it was like this! I couldn't see or move; I was just lying there in total darkness with overwhelming fear and loneliness. I cried out, "Please God don't let me be dead!" As I prayed, God quickly came and brought me out of the darkness. It was a miracle! I was alive again! I struggled to crawl out from under the truck. My head was split open and I had broken my back but I was happy to be alive. I urge anyone thinking of suicide to seek help. Trust me you do not want to experience what I did. I'm so thankful that God saved me and didn't let me die. Please call out to God and He will be there for you.

Xero - Searching for Real Truth

I got married in my 20's and started trying to go to church. I believed in God and His word. I just never seriously lived for Him. I DJ'd at a nightclub on the weekends and pretty much did whatever I wanted. My wife was the same way. We were just two party animals. Eventually I felt a call to change my life. I left the club scene, stopped partying and smoking weed. My wife, didn't like the changes. It was a battle everyday after that. I began a 9 month descent into a lonely and dark place as my wife fought me tooth and nail on every decision possible. Sadly we were divorced soon after. Man was it cold that year. I slept in my van for months then decided to leave town and try to make it somewhere else. I was producing music for guys I'd met online, and was offered a touring spot with a rapper. I ended up sleeping on his couch while we toured all over. What I didn't know was that no one was looking out for me. I was more of a help for others, a supporting act, a ride...a resource. I was feeling used up and irrelevant. I wanted out. Besides that I was still lonely, sad and barely making it. People knew my name through word of mouth, but no one was hiring me as an act. I was just a sideshow for the guy who was actually getting paid. I wasn't even really growing spiritually anymore. So I left, got a job and started working toward freedom. My new girlfriend got kicked out of her mom's house. So we got married and have been together ever since. My life has been hard, lonely, and unfair but God has always and will be my source of hope and strength. I've learned more about God in tragedy than I have in comfort. I read about him a lot, especially in the Old Testament books of the Bible. I also got to know the historical Jesus, not just the one in the stories. I lost a lot of my religion in pursuit of truth. I can say that I'm a much better Christian now that I've let go of superstition and tradition. I sought to understand as much about the historical Bible as I could. If you're hungry for truth, this site really helped me, www.TheNarrowPath.com Lastly, pursue God with everything you have. He is worth it.

WHO IS THE HOLY SPIRIT?

He's the Spirit of God, a.k.a. the Holy Ghost.

He is our friend, guide and source of power.

"Each of you must turn from your sins and turn to God, and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins. Then you will receive the gifts of the Holy Spirit." Acts 2:38

"Don't you realize that all of you together are the temple of God and that the Spirit of God lives in you? 1 Cor. 3:16

"But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you. And you will be my witnesses, telling people about me everywhere—in Jerusalem, throughout Judea, in Samaria, and to the ends of the earth." Acts 1:8

True Holy Spirit power will point people to Jesus and will give glory to God not to people or special gifts.

"But I will send you the Advocate the Spirit of truth. He will come to you from the Father and will tell all about me." John 15:26
